

REMARKS

The Applicant deeply appreciates grant of the notice of allowance of the present invention. After issuance of the notice of allowance, one of the inventors informed counsel that the claims omit a category of suggestion, as described further below. Accordingly the present amendment is offered to add the omitted category.

The amendment is needed for proper protection of the invention and to add to claims 1, 46, and 91 a category of suggestion that is presently missing, even though described as a suggestion category in the application. (This category of suggestion appears in a list of categories in the application on page 11, line 18.)

The claims as amended do not require an additional search because claims 1, 46, and 91, before the amendment leading to notice of allowance, did not depend at all on listed suggestion categories, and thus the search of record addresses the subject matter defined by the claims as proposed to be amended.

The claims are patentable for the reasons of record and because the addition of the new category, namely development of a new product, to the list of categories in the claims is still in the context of a method/product presenting to the user a plurality of templates that allow characterization by the user of the type of suggestion. This method/product similarly still requires the server to select at least one of the templates according to the type of suggestion characterized by the user, as well as routing the data from the structured response according to entries of the response in one or more templates. This approach and combination are not taught by the art of record.

The claims were not presented earlier because the Applicants had not spotted the omission from the list of categories of suggestion until after issuance of the notice of allowance.

The Applicants ask the Examiner to enter these amendments. If any fees are required for the consideration of these amendments, please charge deposit account number 19-4972. If the Examiner has any further remarks or questions, he is invited to contact either Bruce Sunstein or Jakub Michna at (617) 443-9292.
